

Photo Modified: Flickr / SurFeRGiRL30 / CC BY 4.0

During wartime rationing, popular breakfasts included Spam, toast with margarine, Cheerios (which were introduced in 1941), concentrated orange juice, and soy (instead of rationed cornmeal) grits. After the war, consumption of bacon, eggs, and cheese came back with a vengeance.