- enable individuals to be paid
- safeguarding
- emergency procedures for employees

The lawful basis on which we process this information

We ensure that the basis on which we collect and process personal and sensitive data is lawful under Article 6 and Article 9 of the GDPR from 25 May 2018.

Article 6, GDPR

Contract: the processing is necessary for a contract you have with the individual, or because they have asked you to take specific steps before entering into a contract.

Legal obligation: the processing is necessary for you to comply with the law (not including contractual obligations).

Vital interests: the processing is necessary to protect someone's life.

Public task: the processing is necessary for you to perform a task in the public interest or for your official functions, and the task or function has a clear basis in law.

Article 9, GDPR

As special category data is more sensitive so it needs more protection. For example, information about an individual's:

- race;
- ethnic origin;
- politics;
- religion;
- trade union membership;
- genetics;
- biometrics (where used for ID purposes);
- health;
- sex life; or
- sexual orientation.

All the personal data we process is processed by our staff in the United Kingdom. For the purposes of IT hosting and maintenance this information is located on servers within the European Union.

Why we share school workforce information

We do not share information about workforce members with anyone without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Local authority

We are required to share information about our workforce members with our local authority (LA) under The Education (Supply of Information about the School Workforce) (Wales) Regulations 2017 <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/wsi/2017/940/made>

Welsh Government

We share personal data with the Welsh Government (WG) on a statutory basis. This data sharing underpins workforce policy monitoring, evaluation, and links to school funding / expenditure and the assessment educational attainment.

Data collection requirements

We are required by law, to provide personal data relating to those employed by schools and local authorities to the Welsh Government as part of statutory data collections such as the Pupil Level Annual School Census (PLASC) linked to the pupil's attainment data relating to both statutory key stage assessments and external examinations such as GCSEs. The law that allows this is The Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (Wales) Regulations 2013.

To find out more go to: The Education (Supply of Information about the School Workforce) (Wales) Regulations 2017 <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/wsi/2017/940/made>

The Welsh Government may share personal data relating to those employed by schools and local authorities with third parties who promote the education or well-being of children in Wales by:

- conducting research or analysis
- producing statistics
- providing information, advice or guidance

The NPD is a secure website, with access restricted to authorised users only. Access to the database is strictly controlled via allocated User IDs and passwords. Individuals wishing to apply for access to the NPD will be required to complete an application form to determine their level of permissions. Welsh Government will only provide data for a specific purpose and for a limited time period, after which the organisation must confirm that it has been destroyed. Any analysis produced must follow Welsh Government disclosure rules to ensure that individual pupils cannot be identified.

Further information can be found by accessing the IMS web pages at: www.wales.gov.uk/ims
For research purposes wider than education, Welsh Government will use techniques that ensure the data are anonymised before any research takes place. Sharing of anonymised data is outside of the GDPR.
