Poetry writing:

Last week you had a look around your garden or local area at lots of different plants and flowers. You wrote down names and started to think of words to describe them. This week you are going to have a go at using some of these words to help create a poem.

I have included a Powerpoint 'A walk around' to show how I made a poem. You can try to do yours in a similar way. You may use the same flowers and plants if you like and some of the same words. However, it would also be nice if you could try to think of your own too. If you can, do your work on j2E which will save in your fil so that I can read it. Enjoy.
