

Types of Flamingo

Fact Cards

twinkl

Types of Flamingo

Chilean Flamingo

Where can it be seen?

Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay, Peru and Uruguay

Height:

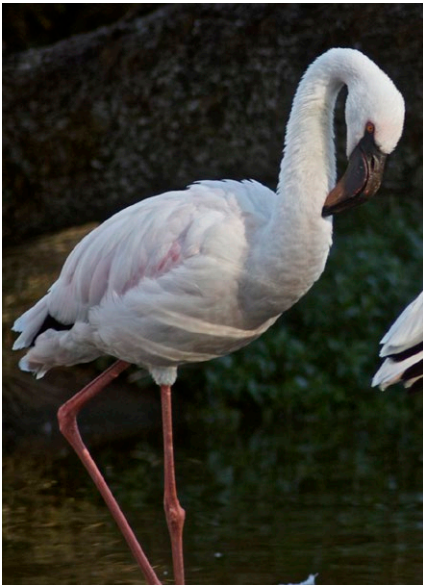

110cm – 130cm

Did you know?

It has greyish legs with pink knees and half of its bill is black.

twinkl.com

Types of Flamingo

Lesser Flamingo

Where can it be seen?

Sub-Saharan Africa and north-west India

Height:

90cm - 100cm

Did you know?

The lesser flamingo is the most populous species of flamingo and it only eats alga spirulina, which grows in lakes.

twinkl.com

Types of Flamingo

James's Flamingo

Where can it be seen?

Peru, Chile, Bolivia and Argentina

Height:

90cm - 110cm

Did you know?

It has red legs and a yellow bill with a black tip.

twinkl.com

Types of Flamingo

Andean Flamingo

Where can it be seen?

Chile and Bolivia

Height:

100cm - 140cm

Did you know?

It has yellow legs and feet.

twinkl.com

Types of Flamingo

Greater Flamingo

Where can it be seen?

Many countries in Africa, south-west Asia and southern Europe as well as the UAE

Height:

120cm - 140cm

Did you know?

It has a pinkish white colour but the ends of its wings are black.

twinkl.com

Types of Flamingo

Caribbean Flamingo

Where can it be seen?

Brazil, Venezuela, Trinidad and Tobago, Yucatán Peninsula, Cuba

Height:

120cm - 140cm

Did you know?

It is the pinkest of all the flamingo species. They also sound like a goose when they honk.

twinkl.com